

New Machine-Type-Models for WebSphere DataPower Appliances

The ordering of WebSphere® DataPower® Appliances was simplified on 23 April 2013 with the announcement of ordering through Passport Advantage® (announcement letter 213-171). This announcement includes new Machine-Type-Models (MTM) that identify the appliances in Passport Advantage. The appliances remain unchanged.

When you contact IBM® for Warranty, Support, or Maintenance, you must use the Passport Advantage MTM on your appliance. However, the documentation for your appliance continues to reference the original MTM. Use the following table to map the MTM on your appliance to the documentation.

DataPower Appliance	Original MTM	Passport Advantage MTM
		Without HSM card	With HSM card
WebSphere DataPower Service Gateway XG45	7198-32X	2426-32X	2426-33X
WebSphere DataPower Integration Appliance XI52	7199-42X	2426-42X	2426-43X
WebSphere DataPower B2B Appliance XB62	7199-62X	2426-62X	2426-63X
WebSphere DataPower Integration Blade XI50B	4195-4BX	2426-4BX	Not available

In addition, for IBM Service, new field replaceable unit (FRU) part numbers for appliance replacement are in Passport Advantage. Use the following table to map appliance FRU part numbers.

Original		Passport Advantage
